

Froschsprünge | Minus

Diagram 1: A horizontal line with three empty square boxes below it. Above the line, a large circle is positioned at the top. Two smaller circles are placed on the line, one between the first and second boxes, and one between the second and third boxes. Two blue curved arrows with heads pointing right connect the top circle to the first small circle, and the first small circle to the second small circle.

Diagram 2: A horizontal line with three empty square boxes below it. Above the line, a large circle is positioned at the top. Two smaller circles are placed on the line, one between the first and second boxes, and one between the second and third boxes. Two blue curved arrows with heads pointing right connect the top circle to the first small circle, and the first small circle to the second small circle.

Diagram 3: A horizontal line with three empty square boxes below it. Above the line, a large circle is positioned at the top. Two smaller circles are placed on the line, one between the first and second boxes, and one between the second and third boxes. Two blue curved arrows with heads pointing right connect the top circle to the first small circle, and the first small circle to the second small circle.